

Martha Caine

Martha Caine is the Executive Director of Smokefree Communities of Vanderburgh County, Indiana. She is responsible for implementing the coalition's strategic plan, building a strong local presence, and fulfilling the mission of protecting non-smokers from secondhand smoke in public places, providing cessation assistance and preventing youth from initiating use of tobacco products. Ms. Caine has 10 years of legislative, policy, advocacy experience and previously worked as the director of Tobacco Free Gibson and Posey Counties. She is the recipient of the 2008 Smokefree Passion Award. She serves as the ACT Lead for the American Cancer Society's Cancer Action Network, District 8. She holds a Bachelor of Arts in Social Science from Oakland City University in Oakland City, Indiana and a Master of Arts in Counseling from Regent University in Virginia Beach, Virginia.