

Blake Vanderbosch, MPH

Blake Vanderbosch recently received his Master in Public Health degree from the Indiana University School of Medicine Department of Public Health, with a concentration in Health Policy and Management. He served as an intern for the Tobacco Prevention and Cessation Commission (TPCC) during the summer of 2010, and was hired on staff in February of 2011 as the Assistant Policy Specialist. He has been active in providing training and technical assistance to local tobacco control partners, particularly with town hall meetings and the planning and implementation of smoke free air laws.